

Juridical Professional Development –2008 Seminars

	April 7th-11th	HS02- IOSH [Health & Safety] Certification After completion of this week long seminar delegates can be awarded an Institute of Occupational Safety and Health Certificate. This will enable delegates to undertake Health & Safety audits of their workplace £950.00 pp for 5 Days including assessment and certification.
	April 14th – 18th	OG01 -Oil & Gas Dynamics – Selling To The Oil & Gas Industry This is an MBA level course specifically designed for the service sector and engineers who sell to the oil industry. It will help you understand how oil companies determine the value of your product and identify current and future opportunities. The course is modular and can be attended as a one day or a combination of days if required. P.O.A.
	May 14th – 15th	CL04- An Introduction To Oil & Gas Contracts [Fully Booked – see below]
	June 3rd – 4th	PM01- Successful Project Management This very practical programme is designed to enable you to understand all the tools required to get that project done on time and to budget. It uses real examples and case studies to fully explain the processes. £450 pp for the 2 days
	June 10th	MA02- Conducting Personnel Appraisals This seminar is aimed at the manager or HR professional who has the responsibility for appraising staff. It will look at the practical issues involved and how appraisal can be used proactively to increase performance and motivation of staff. £235.00 pp for the Day
	Sept 10th – 11th	CL04- An Introduction To Oil & Gas Contracts This is our most popular seminar and always sells out well in advance. Presented by Dr Richard Mays, previously Professor of Law at The Robert Gordon University, this seminar introduces the various clauses contained in oil & gas contracts and examines why they are important. £595.00 pp for the 2 days

Please note that we can also offer advice on any of the above by way of consultancy if that would be more suitable. Further details can be found on our website on by e-mail or telephone.